SINGLE COPY 54

NORTHERN HELPERS—(Twenty-two young men from ten cities in Northern states aided Rev. Mallory Dugan, summer to convert old Kiln public school into Anguine Parish School at Kiln. Workman Denny Strick, land, O. applies paint so new addition for more class space. On scaffold, Bride Kellogg, Kent, O., Frank Cleveland, O. and Paul Manganello, Jersey City, complete second coat for sparkling finish.

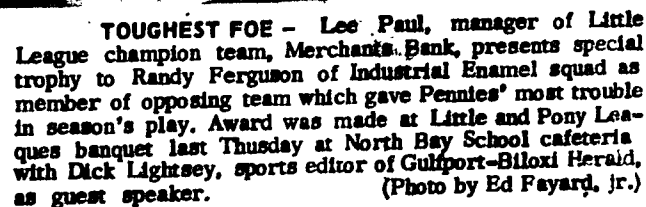

Revenues of the water and gas system during the next year were estimated conservatively at $104,000. Expenses for the utilities were expected to be: operating expenses.

A drive to rid the area of all discarded refrigerators has been launched by the Bay St. Louis Jaycees. Joe Kersanac, chairman of the group's safety committee, announced this week.

When the facility is completed there will be three 115,000 volt lines supplying power to the area, Gregory noted. In addition, the entire system will be tied into the company's central system control center in Gulfport.

Numerous other incidentals to the opening of the fall session Friday occupied the trustees and the board president. (Cont. on Page 6.)

Progress report from MTO

The group was led by Dr. Robert C. Serfaty, Jr., director of the National Center for Human Resources Development at NASA, and Dr. George E. Marshall, executive administrator for personnel administration for the Federal Reserve Board. Other members included Dr. William D. Matthews, director of the Manpower Research Council at the Rand Corp.; Philip Connor of the University of California; and Milton J. Eisenhower of MTO.

Following their arrival at MTO, the visitors were escorted to the site by managers.

As just the suggestion of doing something about an animal shelter evoked so many responses, we'd intended to set up a meeting date in this week's column. . . but, as always the best laid plans went astray, this time due to the fact that daughter Catchie picked up a very active virus, causing us to lose most of our normally "lightest" day, Saturday and we just didn't have time to take this up with chairman of the board, John McCloskey and vice chairman, Lolly Backlund and Marion Oiestad. However, tentative plans call for a dutch treat luncheon at a local restaurant where we can exchange ideas and select a delegation to visit the animal shelter in Covington, La. and just plain ask how one gets started on such a project. First, of course we'll need money—so if there happens to be anyone around with more money than time to give to this most urgently needed project, we'll be happy to accept any donations. . . please make checks out to Hancock County Animal Haven, (for want of a better name) and mail to either Mr. McCloskey or your reporter.

About our ailing friends

Now to prove that we haven't altogether gone to the dogs, we'll mention a few humans who are on our get well wish list—Mrs. Winthrop Baker is even more distressed than she would normally be over her strep throat as her son Winthrop, Jr. and family whom she only gets to see once yearly are here and she's under doctor's orders to remain in one room and one room only. Tony Bourgeois is in Hancock General Hospital recuperating from a heart attack suffered early Wednesday morning, which reminds us to send Ann Langley get well wishes too, as she found Mr. Tony and was in almost as bad a shape as he! Pat Viguerie is also ailing—she has a cold complicated by the virus and Lucien Gex, Jr., is up and about again after a bout with flu last week.

Let's not forget—Miss Pitts winter bowling league needs names of all prospective bowlers by 6 p.m. tonight, Aug. 27, at Tower Lanes. All who bowled last winter, those wishing to enter the league or anyone willing to sponsor a team are asked to register at Tower Lanes or call Junior LaCaze leaving their names so they may be contacted when the first meeting date is set.

Tea for the MTO ladies

Quite a local delegation turned out for Merchiston-Hall's tea and furniture show last Thursday afternoon at the Broadwater Beach Hotel. It was given to introduce MTO newcomers to members of such groups as garden clubs, yacht clubs, and to each other. Libby Fortune, wife of MTO manager William Fortune, was one of the very gracious hostesses as were Marion Mrs. John Cook, Mrs. William Eaton, her husband heads the General Electric group, Mrs. Sidney Miller, of North American Aviation and of course, Leo Crapo, of Merchiston-Hall Galleries. Some of those from the Bay-Waveland area included Margaret Orlis, Virginia Wagner, Adeline Samuel, Mrs. Joseph Scharf, Margaret Shadin, Joan Glass, Earline Russo, Ann Craig and a number of others—but our memory apparently isn't what it used to be.

It really isn't surprising that Pat Viguerie is under the weather as we scan our notes—Thursday, aided by Bess Wagner, she entertained at a birthday party for daughter Janie; Friday night a chance political discussion developed into quite a "bash" with Margaret and Dick Hadden, Don Coffey, Rusty and Dick Balch here from California (visiting Rusty's parents, Mary and Charlie Breath), Eileen Plunkett and Mike Mashburn from Hammond, La., participating and capped the weekend with another teen-age party, a barbecue for departing Kathy Quigley on Saturday afternoon.

Quigleys depart

Speaking of the Quigleys, guess we wish them a reluctant farewell but hope that they'll return. . . they've left before, but never can seem to stay away from the coast for too very long.

Bill Gaudet is driving around in style in his "new" Cadillac purchased from the Quigleys.

It seems as about all we're doing this week is bidding fond farewells to doctors. . . the Nick Campbells have left their Neuhigville home and Evelyn and Charlie Cox leave Friday for Lafayette, La., where he will spend a year's residency at Charity Hospital.

Budding young sailors

We fear Nancy Gex is neglecting other tasks as she's so busy polishing her silver trophy as best beginner in the season's sailing class at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. . . In fact she's no longer classed as a beginner and is qualified to take off on her own. Charlie Johnson, (the Rev., no less) also has a trophy as the most improved sailor. Our heartiest congratulations to both!

The half-century note Goldwater steak dinner and swimming party at Ann and Ed Porter's fabulous swimming pool Saturday night must have been quite a blast. . . don't know what Mr. Goldwater was up to but understand that the guests had a ball. Seventeen showed up including Ebbie and Jay Clark, Virginia and Fred Wagner and we're certain we can include Margaret and Dick's Hadden's names even though this isn't verified.

Mountain climbers--by car

The Kirkland Rheams have just returned from an almost 3,000 mile round trip to Golden, Colo., where they spend over three weeks visiting son, Kirkland, Jr., and family. While there they toured the state just about as thoroughly as one can. . . they drove 1,200 miles in the Rocky Mountains never leaving the state of Colorado.

Speaking of mountains, just had a chat with Pat Pitolo, who with husband Buddy, daughter Robin and Donald Cuevas have returned from their vacation which included a train trip to Detroit to pick up their new car, then on to New York and Niagara Falls, where they slept over the falls. . . (no vacancies) and on to the border of Canada; then a return trip through Pennsylvania—they had a wonderful time, but flatland acclimated Pat still gets a bit breathless when she recalls whizzing around curves at 26,000 foot elevations. Her co-worker, Pat Fayard is now vacationing and we hope to have her report for next week's issue.

A jolting and sort of vague happy birthday wish goes to Ed Harris. . . vague because we can't remember the exact date, but think it was on Aug. 8. . . but the greeting is none the less sincere even if not too accurate.

Another newcomer to welcome. . . Shirley Wallace is to be the new librarian at North Central.

Mrs. Winthrop Carter, her daughter, Helen, and granddaughter, (she's Mrs. Turk Carter's sister), are spending some time at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel and of course visiting with the Carters.

Good deed

Mrs. Marcel Gillis' brother, Liddell Caffery of Pass Christian gets the award for good deed of the week. He happened to run into a bus load of teen-agers and chaperones (23 in all) who were enroute from California to the World's Fair and had gotten fouled up in their schedule. The group were tired, hot and weary so he graciously offered them his beachfront home and swimming pool for the night. The following morning he treated all to breakfast and each to a praline before they went on their way.

Once again we're going to ask to open your hearts and more important your pocketbooks Saturday night at the Waveland Volunteer Department's first fair beginning at 5 p.m. at Elwood Memorial Park. There will be all the usual attractions including a dunking pond, games and the like. Don't eat before going as delicious hot roast beef sandwiches will be among the goodies served. We're asked by the auxiliary to issue a special

Scafide, Carter, Head, Haas win Duplicate play

Bay St. Louis Duplicators conducted their fourth tournament at the Garden Center Friday night with W. Horn directing a five and a half table Mitchell movement.

North-South winners were Miss A. Scafide and Mrs. N.L. Carter, with Mr. and Mrs. G. Kocmos and Mrs. A. Horn and B. Jinks tying for second and third honors.

East-West winners were Mrs. V. Head and Mrs. N. Haas, second were Mr. and Mrs. R. Carlson; and tying for third honors were Mrs. T. Garner and H. Wise and Mrs. R. Dennis and Mrs. E. Mogabgab.

New Duplicators attending were Mrs. L. Gianelloni; Mrs. Roy Dennis and L. Paul. Next regular session will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday. Coffee will be served.

Invitation to residents of neighboring communities to attend. . . we can count on grateful Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore residents and urge those from the Bay to come along too. More Fair visitors - Kate (Cont. on Page 4.)

BY CECILE TURCOTTE HO 7-4655

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Magner and seven children have returned to their home in Kansas, La., after spending two weeks with Mrs. Magner's mother at her home on Carol Street.

Little Miss Barbara Ann Thorne, of New Orleans (is spending some time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manfre of New Orleans spent the weekend at their home on Waveland Avenue.

Birthday greetings to my sisters, Mrs. Jacob Schwander and Miss Mary Margaret Turcotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henley and daughter Robin and niece, Misses Elaine and Aline Fricke have returned from Cherokee, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Charleston Ladner, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dorn and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Asher recently returned from a motor trip to Lookout and Smokey Mountains, and Rock City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilkinson from New Orleans have been vacationing at the M. J. Carbajal cottage with their four sons and two nephews. The boys were wading in the water near the pier, when a large beautiful red fish came flundering toward them. Little David Wilkinson caught the fish with his hands. Mrs. Carbajal, examining the fish, discovered a large hook, swivel, and a once live shrimp embedded in the throat of the fish. Poor thing had probably put up a good fight, only to break away from the line of a very sad fisherman somewhere along the seawall towards the Jackson Ridge. But David said finders keepers, he caught the fish fair, at a square and Mrs. Carbajal agreed with him, and she was told it also tasted great when

Meyers entertain friends from WWI

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Meyer, entertained at a luncheon at their home Aug. 19 for men who served together in 114th Field Signal Battalion in World War I.

Dependable natural gas service doesn't "just happen." It takes large reserves (United has nearly one-tenth of known reserves in the nation). It takes many sources of supply (United is connected to 500 fields). It takes a massive pipe line system (United has over 9,000 miles of main transmission line). And it takes a gas company that knows the business.

Should save

It looks like Waveland's millage next year will be 12 instead of 11 as in the past several years. Some property owners are bound to gripe about this even though the cause of the increase, a fire department, is something that should soon save most of them many times over the amount of additional tax.

Insurance on buildings in Waveland is presently in class 10. Except for areas outside municipalities this is the highest premium rate charged. The addition of a paid fire department, complete with an adequate modern pumper, is the last major step toward possible qualification of Waveland for class 8 rates. The recent improvement to the water system was the first. Some minor items probably still need to be acquired. Among these is an adequate siren and bids on that item are now being sought for opening at the Oct. 6 meeting of Town Council.

For some idea of the savings in insurance premiums obtaining class 8 rates would have, take the case of a frame home insured for $10,000. In class 10 the annual premium for this home is $71, while in class 8 the premium is $36. With buildings in Waveland assessed about 15 per cent of their value this house would probably be assessed at $1,500 and an increase of one mill would amount to $1.50.

We have one nagging reservation about Town Council's plans. Will a paid fire department of only three men, the size presently contemplated, be considered sufficient by Mississippi's Rating Bureau.

What now?

While an argument can be made, as Alabama and Mississippi delegates did, that the Democrats' credentials committee should have required no loyalty oath from them since none was required of other delegations, it would take a certain amount of blindness or at least naivete for the non-Southern delegates to accept this. There was more than a little evidence that many of the Mississippi and Alabama delegates would not support President Lyndon Johnson for reelection. No equivalently strong suspicion surrounded delegates from other states and territories.

We do not concur with the committee's recommendation that two at-large delegates should go to the so-called Freedom Democrats. By no stretch of the imagination of the law was this group properly selected. All told, however, we think the national party's credentials committee came out with a pretty reasonable plan. That it was not acceptable to the majority of the delegates of the Mississippi Democratic Party raises other questions.

Not least among these is the question: where do they go now? Will many of them turn Republican for just this election or will they stay Republican and perhaps take over the Republican organization in Mississippi? Or have recent breaches in both major political parties been wide enough that a true conservative party may come on the national scene? If Senator Barry Goldwater makes a real run of it in November, even if he doesn't win, the last may come to pass. And about time, too.

No economy here

For those of you who have been inconvenienced by the shortage of coins in circulation, the Treasury Department has some promising news. During July the Philadelphia and Denver mints turned out 458.4 million coins—77 per cent more than July, 1963.

In addition to speeding up production at current facilities by operating on a 24-hour day, 7-day week schedule, between now and early next year the department expects to almost double its present 60 coin presses. Two presses it formerly owned have been re-acquired, 11 new ones are being built, bids for another 15 new ones have probably been accepted by now, and 16 presses, previously used by the Defense Department for ammunition manufacture, are being converted to coin production.

All this is for the good, we guess, but like any crash program it is costly and inefficient. The 77 per cent increase in production during July 1964 over July 1963 doesn't sound so impressive when the 168 hour week required for the increase is compared to a 40 hour or less week.

And while it has tried to blame the coin shortage on just about everything and everybody else, the Treasury Department has yet to face up to the fact that the government, presumably the Treasury Department itself, called the boobies causing the shortage. It just didn't plan on producing enough coins and didn't get the word until it had to run to catch up. The White House could do without lights for hundreds of years before that economy would balance out its coin shortage.

Don't even get to another. "Oh, here's the place they told me to stay away from. I thought it was bad, but it's worse."

STATISTICAL CENTER - Data acquisition facility, in foreground, now under construction at MTO will be gathering point for information received from rocket stages of Saturn V moon rocket. Instrumentation cables from MTO's three test stands, one of which can be seen in background, will lead to facility where more than 1,200 measurements will be made during each static firing. Building is scheduled for completion in late February.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

ATLANTIC CITY - The fact that President Johnson telephoned Atlantic City shortly before the convention opened and fired Leonard Reisch, longtime convention manager, illustrates an important point regarding the direction of the coming campaign. Immediate reason for firing Reisch was that his mail's pace handling of convention tickets made it likely there would be huge blocks of vacant seats showing up in TV in the convention hall. Meanwhile people were clamoring for tickets to the point that they were going to Atlantic City's Republican boss Hag Farley to get them. Even Big Jim Farley, grand old man of the Democratic party, was looking for a ticket.

Reisch has been dominating Democratic conventions for almost twenty years and many Democrats have felt he should have been fired long ago. This time he was blamed, rightly or wrongly, for the initial failure to invite former President Harry Truman to speak at the convention, an oversight which got Johnson's backing.

Replacing Reisch, the President appointed his old Texas friend, Marvin Watson, head of the Lone Star Steel Co., a Texas conservative and an efficient one who is devoted to LBJ.

All this illustrates the fact that the President has been trying to operate with a combination of the old Kennedy political machine, his own political friends and some of the career members of the Democratic National Committee. They don't always mesh.

The result has been that LBJ himself has tremendous prestige in the nation, as indicated by the polls, yet some of his best friends are worried about lack of political organization.

Prophet of gloom

There are also those still-boys like Dave McDonald, handsome president of the United Steelworkers, who has been predicting at Atlantic City that Goldwater was going to win. Says Dave in "hotter": The Johnson Administration has been kicking too many white pants to make way for Negro postmasters. The Democrats are too complacent. The polls in the Steelworkers Union are all for Goldwater. Labor has forgotten what the Democrats have done for them in the past. Goldwater will win.

However, there is one skill Lyndon Johnson has perfected better than any other—politics. And short tonight when he becomes the official candidate of the Democratic party, it's predicted he'll take over the party reins vigorously and officially.

Broadwalk merry-go-round

Three days before the convention opened, the White House had its own private line to a special switchboard in the convention hall. The operator answered: "Atlantic City White House." . . .

Four years ago Bob Meyer, governor of New Jersey was among the few who held out against Kennedy at Los Angeles. He was for LBJ. Today, as co-governor of New Jersey, he's the tobacco czar who has the tough job of regulating cigarette advertising. . . . Mary Roebing, chairman of the Trenton Trust Company, and the world's No. 1 lady banker, has been a lifelong Republican, but in Atlantic City was the life of Democratic parties. . . . Pearl Maest serves as her own bouncer. When Saul and Marcia Stern turned up at her party with children, Pearl politely asked the children to stay outside. . . . Gen. Kenneth Royall, Secretary of the Army under Truman, was a little hesitant about coming back into the Democratic fold. He confided to friends that he had left the party twice but hoped the Democrats would let him return. They did. . . . Jane Engelhard, as pretty as her husband's diamonds, was among those who made Democrats feel at home. Charlie Engelhard owns some of the biggest platinum and diamond mines in South Africa.

Backstage in Atlantic City

When the White House informed Atlantic City police that Lady Bird Johnson and her two daughters would arrive one day ahead of the President, the word also was given not to let Lady Bird slip off to any semi-gala parties. . . . Sen. Gene McCarthy officially stayed at the Shoreham, where his colleague H.H. Humphrey also stayed. But unofficially he had a hideaway at the Atlantic City Casino in Brigantine. . . . Atlantic City police have picked up a man who claimed he was offered $5,000 to assassinate President Johnson during his trip to the convention. The police decided, after questioning, that he was a mental case, sent him home to Philadelphia. . . . The mammoth ballroom from which Barry Goldwater's likeness was shown down stairs on Democratic television was first offered to the Democrats for $15,000. The National Committee decided this was too steep. So the Republicans, who accuse the Democrats of big spending, quickly changed up the deal.

Floating crap game sunk

Paid cheating specialists, from sea-of-law police department, helped Atlantic City police spot gamblers, pickpockets and prostitutes. During the pre-convention weekend, four notorious gamblers were tried for supervising a floating crap game at the Atlantic City Casino. The four defendants are charged with running a floating crap game at the Atlantic City Casino. The four defendants are charged with running a floating crap game at the Atlantic City Casino.

Teen Times

It seems as if it were just a week or so ago that we were writing about graduation and listing vacation plans and all of a sudden, the long hot summer is all but over and for many, this is the last week out of school. SJA, Stanislaus, Christ Episcopal Day School and most college students have until today after Labor Day to report, but public schools are opening their doors a week earlier than usual much to the relief of most parents and ire of the pupils!

There were lots of parties honoring Nita Kay Erwin who was wed to Jimbo Green at one of the loveliest ceremonies ever at First Baptist Church Saturday night. Pennie Sue Webb hosted a doe dinner featuring Nita Kay on Thursday night and we're told much of honor Ripple Rausch gifted her with a most interesting and useful assortment of presents. Ann Bryant, who was soloist at the ceremony, was Paula Crider's houseguest, during the pre-nuptial activity.

Florence Beasley of Sylacauga, Ala., is the guest of Jimmy Giametta and his parents prior to her returning to PRJC and he to his junior year at Southern.

Barbara Noonan leaves Sept. 9 for Charity Hospital where she'll enter nurses training.

Lynn Rose is on the mend after having all kinds of unfortunate drug reactions following surgery to remove a needle imbedded in a bone in her foot two weeks ago.

Ronnie Farrell is also recovering satisfactorily from his gas explosion accident. We hope he'll be well enough to enter PRJC as planned.

A very happy birthday wish and welcome to teen times goes to Janie Viguerie who cut her enormous cake lettered Lucky 13th June on Thursday, Aug. 20. Jane and her guests first enjoyed a swim at a motel pool, then retired to her home for refreshments. Favors carrying out the back-to-school motif were assignment pads to which pens and caricature erasers were attached. Enjoying the party were Sharon Monti, Mary Butterworth, Susie Ferry, Connie Kemery, Holly Hayden, Kathy Quigley, Amy Lynch, Mary Jo Jacobi, Beth Tourant and Jane's cousin Elizabeth (Boo) Pugh of Mobile.

Jane also entertained at a going away barbecue featuring Kathy Quigley on Saturday. Kathy, who with her family left for California Sunday, was gifted with an autograph book, address, book, pen, stationery and other reminders not to forget her friends here.

Randall Grigsby, who graduated from PRJC in June, is another preparing to take the fatal plunge.

Susan Marie Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan of Union Street, is spending the month in Iron Mountain, Tenn., where she is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzgibbons.

The Horace Thompson's lovely swimming pool is just about the most popular place around the Jeff Davis-Nicholson Avenue neighborhood for the younger set. Some who have been enjoying cool dips include Susan Thompson, her cousins, David and Ricky Hubbard, Catchie Crider, Sharon Greenwald and Francis Shippey.

Bay High girls are busy organizing this year's Pep Squad. Anyone interested in joining is asked to call Melva Luke, who is incidentally Hancock County's first Farm Bureau queen, or Linda Hamilton.

Lucette Worrel looks a bit sadder as each day brings nearer the date for Billy Thomas to depart for Mississippi State. Kathy Suh seems more than a little interested in the fact that Dale Burke will return from New Castle, Del., to classes at St. Stanislaus in PLANNING YULE SEAL SALE - Hancock County Tuberculosis Assn. volunteers, from left, Mesdames Frank Hille, Roger Davis, John Koenen and Joe Bermont, attended district campaign meeting at Biloxi last week to map plans for Christmas Seal sale in November and December. Local sale is conducted with cooperation of Bay Jaycees.

Three Hancock Countians were among the 470 students at Mississippi State University receiving degrees Saturday at the annual summer commencement exercises.

Frederick Joseph Bourgeois, Jr., of Waveland was a candidate from the College of Arts and Sciences; James Francis Shippey of Waveland, College of Education, and Owen Williams of Bay St. Louis, master's degree from the graduate school.

September.

Get well wishes go to Joan Morano who was a patient in Hancock General over the weekend.

Birthday greetings go to Linda Bounds who will be 15 on Monday, Aug. 31.

Carolyn Damien, who is studying to become an x-ray technician, is also in line for get well wishes—she's still plagued with complications from surgery last year.

Wonder why a certain girl who works at the 'Inn' is angry at Jimmy Austin?

Birthday wishes go to Margaret McDowell who was 15 Saturday, Aug. 8, and to Dianne Kingston-Dianne cut her cake on her 14th birthday, Aug. 21.

Belated farewells go to brothers Ronald and Larry LaFontaine, their cousin, Leroy LaFontaine, Laverne Sones and Pursley who left for Fort Polk and the National Guard a couple of weeks ago.

Michael LaFontaine is walking around in a cast—he suffered a broken ankle in a fall off the Clement Harbor pier last weekend.

William Pierce, who graduated from PRJC in June, has a position as manual arts instructor at Gregory Junior High School in New Orleans. He'll continue to study for his degree at night.

Miss Marcia Compretta gets a very warm and personal welcome to Teen Times. Marcia was surprised at a lovely party at Sharon Monti's home on the occasion of her 13th birthday on Saturday night, Aug. 22.

Ned Heath, who fractured his ankle while acting like a 20th century Sir Francis Drake, took off for California cast and all and stated he won't return until he gets Ann Margaret's autograph off the back of plaster.

Luke's softball team was honored at a turkey dinner by sponsor Leroy Luke and Mrs. Luke at their Bayou LaCrosse camp recently. The girls presented their coach, Bruce Kleinhans with an engraved belt buckle as a belated birthday gift. Bruce was 17 on Aug. 5.

Speaking of birthdays we also have quite a few others to catch up on. Nan Nelson was surprised at a party given by Susan Wood at her home on her 17th birthday, Aug. 11. Guests included Susie Rhodes, Leslie Blatz, Nodie Lader, Dick Watts, Ned Heath, Prince Cook, Curtis Mamberne, Lydia Dillmann, Piji White, Dianne Carver, Dany Rhodes and Bruce Kleinhans.

Others in line for greetings are Nodie Lader who was 15, on Aug. 4; Melva Luke, 17, on Aug. 10 and Pat Pernicaro on her

Chateau captures Coast slow pitch

Rolling over all opposition in a field of 23 teams, the Chateau captured the title in the Fourth Annual Gulf Coast Slow Pitch Softball Tournament. Semi-finals and finals for the series, sponsored by the Piquette Boosters Club, took place at the YMCA field in Piquette.

Paired for the semi-finals were Chateau Seu vs. the Punks of Piquette and Ladner Shop Rite against East Side, also of Piquette. In the first game of the afternoon, Chateau Seu rolled over the Punks 10-0 in an unequal match which had to be held up for a 30-minute rain after the second inning. Afterward the Shop Rite team knocked down East Side 4-2 while the field dried out.

Both the Bay St. Louis and Piquette teams had been strong throughout the tournament and the final scrap was no disappointment. Coach Bobby Strong's boys took an early lead of 4-0 in the first, and added another run in the top of the second, a beautiful homer by Mike Strong down the right field line. But the Shop Rite crowd came back in the bottom of the second with four runs to leave the Bay boys with the scant margin, 5-4.

Three and a half scoreless innings followed, due mainly to excellent fielding on both sides. Then, in the bottom of the sixth Shop Rite tied it up, 5-5, and the heat was on.

Leroy Luke led off the top of the seventh for Chateau Seu and went out on a hard one smugged by Shop Rite's third base. Claude Yarborough followed with a base hit down the right line, and Mike Strong popped out to short while setting up Yarborough on second. Raymond Strong drove Yarborough in with a clean hit over center, and Larry Favre followed with another smash leaving two on with two out, the score 6-5.

In the final play, Donald Strong was put out, but not before a fielder's overthrow to first had allowed Raymond Strong and Larry Favre to race home. By holding the Piquette team scoreless in the last of the seventh, the Chateau Seu mob had it all wrapped up, 6-5.

In addition to walking away with team honors, the Bay bunch also brought home its share of individual trophies. Leroy Luke for outstanding shortstop, James Ginn for second base, Larry Favre, left field, and Donald Strong, team manager.

Yacht club pushes plans for Lipton

Continuing preparations for the St. Thomas Lipton Challenge races, to be staged at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club over Labor Day weekend, regatta co-chairmen Henry Chapman and Al Weinfurter have completed appointments of committee heads for the social and house activities.

Leo Seal, Jr., was named invitation chairman; Mrs. Fred Wagner, in charge of publicity; Mrs. Edward Heath and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Jr., are in charge of welcome and registration; and Mrs. John McDonald and Mrs. William Pichler will handle the dressing room.

Chairmen for dining and kitchen activities will be Mrs. Richard Reeves and Mrs. David Pindexter. Arrangements for the Sunday night fish fry are being made by Seal, Edward Heath, and C. C. McDonald, Jr., while Vernon Niven is in charge of the bar and soft drinks. David Pindexter is preparing the parking and grounds, and Mrs. Pindexter will be entertainment chairman.

Anticipating about a thousand people to be on hand for the three-day event, members of the club pitched in last weekend for a sociable workout on the BWYC building and grounds. Free paint and brushes, soap and sponges, and sandwiches and chips were provided for all. The busy two days resulted in a newly painted ladies dressing

Moran enters medical course

Carl Joseph Moran, Jr., of Kille is among the 11 freshmen medical students accepted to begin classes at the University Medical Center in Jackson Sept. 7.

He'll be among the near 100 new students expected for orientation the previous day. Other accepted new students include 54 freshmen in the School of Nursing, and some 20 in graduate studies in the medical sciences.

There'll be one part-time student in the medical school freshmen who come from 19 different schools and seven states.

Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moran, took his pre-medical work at Mississippi State University and is one of 15 medical freshmen there.

Mumps hit Hawks in practice for football opener

The Hawks of Hancock North Central have been shaping up well in pre-season football practice, according to Coach Paul Lee.

Although somewhat light on weight, especially in the backfield, the team is expected to be ready to give a good account of itself when the Hawks come up against Sumrall in the opener on Sept. 4.

Minor setbacks, however, when four players recently became ill with mumps, Coach Lee could not say early this week exactly when the boys could be expected to be back in shape, but was afraid they might have to miss some of the early games of the season.

Retarded unit seeks members to aid school

A minimum of 250 paid memberships will be necessary to continue operation of the Children's Center for 1965-66, according to figures compiled by Mrs. Edward Virgilio, treasurer for the Hancock Assn. for Retarded Children which sponsors the center.

Plans for a membership drive will be the principal topic at the association's annual meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at the Children's Center on Carroll Avenue.

The association plans to make an extensive effort to secure more widespread community participation in helping the mentally retarded child at the local level. It was noted that about 1,000 of these children are in the state and the program is nationally recognized. Hancock County's retarded population totals about 450.
